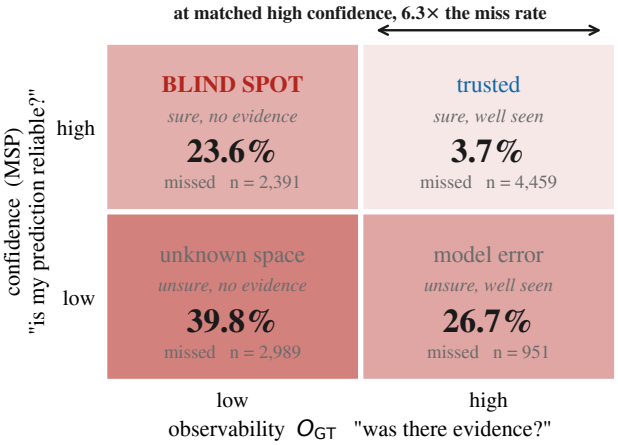
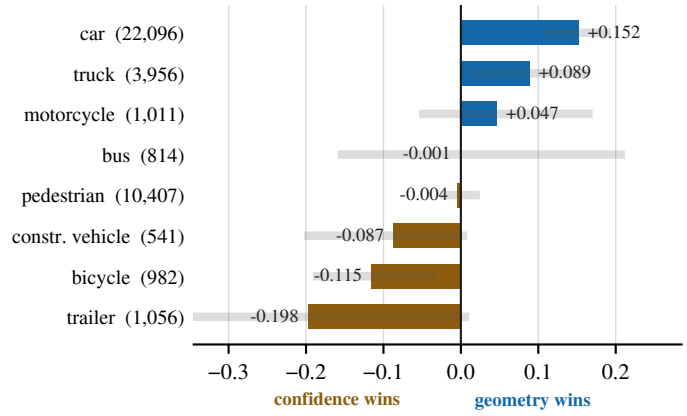
(a) The two axes are not the same question



(b) and neither wins everywhere



(a) 10,790 test objects split at the population medians, $O$ 0.36 and MSP 1.00 — more than half of all objects carry the maximum softmax value, which is itself the problem; shading tracks the miss rate. (b) bars are the paired scene-bootstrap mean, rules the 95% interval.